Meet the Owner!

Carrie Robertson started Peanut City Candle Co. as a hobby when she was looking to make safe candles for herself, but mostly her dog when she found out that most mass-produced candles can contain heavy metals.

Since then, Carrie has been dedicated to making her 100% soy-wax candles for the health and safety of her customers, their pets, and the environment.

Handcrafted in Suffolk

Peanut City Candle Co. is hand-poured in Suffolk, VA. By having the product hand-poured by Carrie, she is able to ensure the best product her customers can buy while keeping costs down.

Carrie has taken her small business and has created such a following that she goes to markets all over the Hampton Roads including Norfolk, VA Beach, Hampton, Smithfield, and Suffolk.

Scents Galore!

Peanut City Candle Co. has over 20 scents that Carrie has crafted! PCCC sells an array of different sized candles as well as wax melts and merchandice.

PCCC also partners with other small businesses to create unique candle scent combos and amazing container displays.

Make sure to follow PCCC on social media and her newsletter to make sure you're aware of special editions of her candles.
